Psychology teaching includes: Flip learning - The Power Point for each lesson is uploaded onto Class Charts before the lesson and is also made available by email. Teams lessons focus on main evaluation points and exam skills. Students have the opportunity to ask questions live via audio or the chat function and can also receive personalised feedback through email. There is also the opportunity for group discussion and collaboration using the breakout rooms. For all exam questions each student will receive feedback on their knowledge, application and evaluation skills, along with their mark.
